TQEA's Curriculum Intent

Develop a broad and balanced curriculum that enables students to learn, recall and apply knowledge and skills across different contexts, supported by a robust and consistent approach to assessment. This will lead to successful and resilient lifelong learners who can cope in a range of changing contexts.

TQEA's Curriculum Implementation

- Recognise the importance of subjects as individual disciplines
- Recognise that key stages should be distinctively different
- Use the curriculum to address disadvantage and provide equality of opportunity
- Regularly review the curriculum
- Use the curriculum as the progression model and sequence knowledge accordingly
- Intelligently use assessment to inform curriculum design
- Ensure there is a retrieval of core knowledge woven through the curriculum
- Distribute curriculum leadership and encourage professionals to working and share collaboratively.
